DESCRIPTION

Disruptores e Innovadores (D+I) is the specialized media on innovation and digital transformation that is published within the digital newspaper El Español. It has been created in December 2020 as the natural next step of the well-recognized and award-winning supplement INNOVADORES, that has been published for almost a decade with the support of media groups such as El Mundo or La Razón. D+I brings the audience the best information about the frontiers of technology, big tech B2B announcements, Spanish startup ecosystem and all the innovation paths that are being created between our country, Europe and Latin America.
